GENERAL DIRECTORATE OF CULTURAL HERITAGE RHINELAND-PALATINATE: WE BRING HISTORY TO LIFE

Rhineland-Palatinate, a centre of European culture, has a lot to offer. Set off on an exploration tour and discover monumental Roman buildings, medieval castles, historic palaces, top-class state museums and a variety of attractive events.

There are no fewer than seven UNESCO World Heritage Sites in the state: Speyer Cathedral; the Roman monuments in Trier, Cathedral of St. Peter and the Church of Our Lady; the Upper Middle Rhine Valley and the Upper Germanic-Raetian Limes and, since 2021, the ShUM sites of Speyer, Worms and Mainz; Bad Ems as one of the most important spa towns in Europe and the Lower Germanic Limes.

The General Directorate for Cultural Heritage (GDKE) brings this great history to life. It not only opens up the state's own castles, palaces and antiquities, but also forms the umbrella for the Directorates of State Monument Preservation, State Archaeology and the three outstanding state museums in Koblenz, Mainz and Trier.

You can look forward to a wide variety of exhibitions, events and living history programmes. Have fun on a journey of discovery through the cultural heritage of our state!

Speyer Cathedral

Porta Nigra

UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE IN RHINELAND-PALATINATE

Wherever you travel in Rhineland-Palatinate, you will find extraordinary buildings, beautiful landscapes and living history. In Rhineland-Palatinate you can discover no less than seven UNESCO World Heritage Sites:

SPEYER CATHEDRAL

This impressive building is beyond all dimensions: It is the world's largest preserved Romanesque church, its crypt represents the largest European portico, and its ground plan influenced Romanesque architecture throughout Central Europe.

www.dom-zu-speyer.de

ROMAN MONUMENTS, CATHEDRAL OF ST. PETER AND CHURCH OF OUR LADY IN TRIER

Roman bridge, Porta Nigra, Imperial and Barbara Baths, remains of the city fortifications, amphitheatre, palace hall – in Trier, one of the oldest cities in Germany, you will feel taken back to Roman times.

CULTURAL LANDSCAPE OF THE UPPER MIDDLE RHINE VALLEY

Fairy-tale castles, proud palaces and mighty fortresses crowd the Middle Rhine Valley. Coupled with breath-taking views and a unique landscape, the spectacular monuments make the around 65 kilometres route between Bingen and Koblenz a very special experience.

Limes

UPPER GERMANIC-RAETIAN LIMES

With a length of 550 kilometres, the Upper Germanic-Rhaetian Limes is the longest monument in Europe. Its forts, watchtowers, walls and palisades demarcated the former Roman world power from free, “barbarian” Germania.

www.gdke.rlp.de

WORLD HERITAGE BAD EMS – GREAT SPA TOWNS OF EUROPE

Masterpieces of spa architecture with magnificent buildings from the Baroque and Classicist periods and healing waters from no less than 15 springs: The Rhineland-Palatinate spa town of Bad Ems is one of the most important spa towns in Europe.

www.badems-nassau.info

LOWER GERMANIC LIMES

2,000 years ago, a 385-kilometre-long section of the outer border of the Roman Empire ran through the Netherlands, North Rhine-Westphalia and Rhineland-Palatinate. Remagen, as the Rhineland-Palatinate partner of the Lower Germanic Limes, is delighted about the UNESCO award.

SHUM SITES OF SPEYER, WORMS AND MAINZ

ShUM – that is what Jews called the important Jewish communities of Speyer, Worms and Mainz. The unique monuments preserved there, synagogues, women’s synagogues and mikvahs, bear witness to the creative power and the immense importance of these Jewish communities.

KAISERTHERMEN

PART OF THE LATE ROMAN PALACE DISTRICT

The Kaiserthermen were designed as one of the largest public baths of the Roman empire. With bathing and wandering halls, sauna and massage rooms the thermal baths were to provide relaxation to distinguished Romans – however, they were never completed. Declared UNESCO world heritage site, the mighty ruins – including an underground maze – today invite to take a discovery tour.

RHINE STATE MUSEUM TRIER

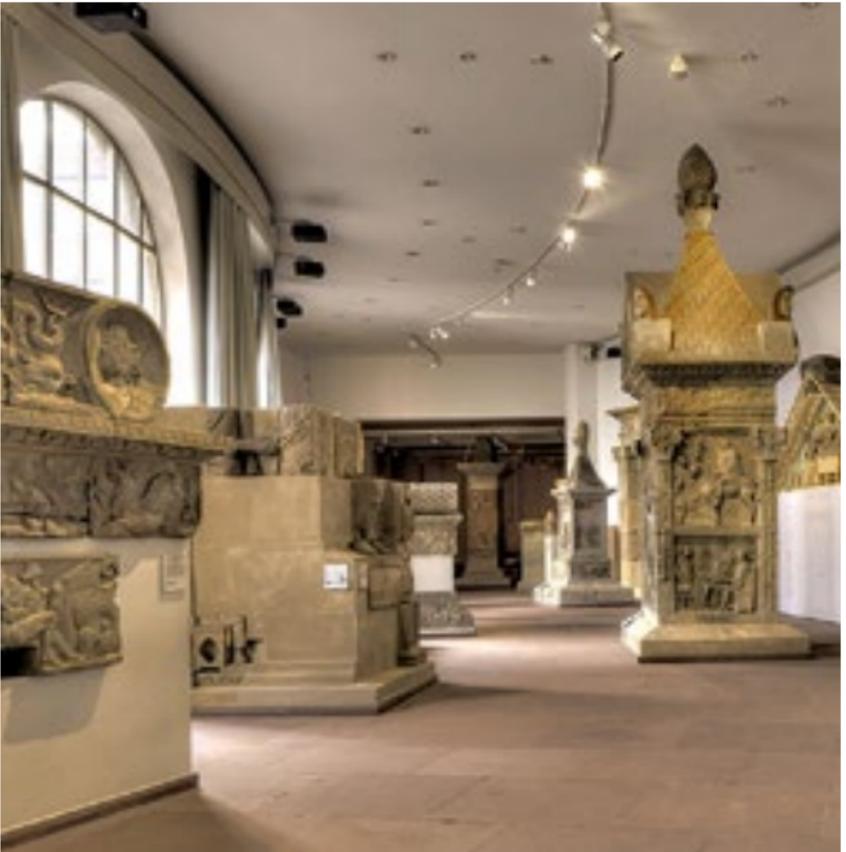

DISCOVERIES ON A GLOBAL SCALE

The greatest Roman gold treasure, splendid Roman mosaics, an ancient silver jug or the famous Diatret glass – the Rhine State Museum Trier hosts archaeological finds of world-class level. Experience the past of Trier and its surrounding from the Stone Age to Roman times, from the Frankish to the last principality era.

The abundance and quality of the artefacts from the Roman era – the period in which the city of Trier, as the official imperial residence of the Roman Empire, occupied its most significant position in its history – is truly unique. New finds from the excavations of the State Archaeology Department continually enrich the collection.

THE TRIER GOLD TREASURE IS BACK!

The discovery of the 18.5 kg find of pure gold in Trier in 1993 was considered a true sensation. It is the world's largest Roman gold coin treasure ever found. After an unsuccessful theft attempt in 2019, the coin cabinet was extensively renovated and redesigned. The museum's treasure chamber with the Trier gold treasure has opened its doors, so you too can now fall under the spell of gold!

THE EIFEL – BETWEEN VOLCANIC DOMES AND MAARS

The region of maars and volcanos – the last volcanic eruption was recorded more than 10,000 years ago – offers a wonderful backdrop when taking a journey into the past. Villa Otrang takes you back to the life of Roman families, Nürburg castle invites you to follow the footsteps of noblemen and the view over the volcanic Eifel and Bürresheim Castle bears testimony to the aristocracy and living culture of past times.

OTRANG ROMAN VILLA

IMPRESSIVE ROMAN ESTATE

Dimensions and interior of Villa Otrang are impressive: heated floors, marvellous mosaics, elaborate public baths and space for several families. It is one of the largest Roman estates in the Rhine region and one of the best preserved at the same time.

MAINZ STATE MUSEUM

200,000 YEARS OF CULTURAL HISTORY

The Mainz State Museum is one of the oldest museums in Germany and is located at Große Bleiche, right in the centre of Mainz. The baroque building of the “Golden-Ross Barracks” and the modern glass and steel construction to the inner courtyard together with the electoral stables form the charming ensemble of the fundamentally renovated and modernised State Museum.

The museum’s important collection of art and cultural history stretches from the beginnings of culture to contemporary art.

They clearly reflect the varied aspects of cultural and social history over the millennia in a unique way.

The collections showcase: Prehistory, Roman times, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the Baroque period, graphics from the 16th to the 20th century, Dutch painting, 18th-century porcelain, 19th-century painting, Judaica, city history, Art Nouveau glass and modern art.

Numerous special exhibitions on a wide variety of topics and eras enrich the varied offer.

PALATINATE – THE CASTLE REGION

One romantic castle next to the other, mighty rocks, extended forests – not for nothing is the Palatinate Germany's castle region. In the Middle Ages the region was one of the most important areas of the Empire. Today you can experience how kings, counts and knights used to live and fought for power and wealth on Trifels Castle, the Dahner Castles or the Hardenburg Castle and Fortress ruins.

TRIFELS CASTLE

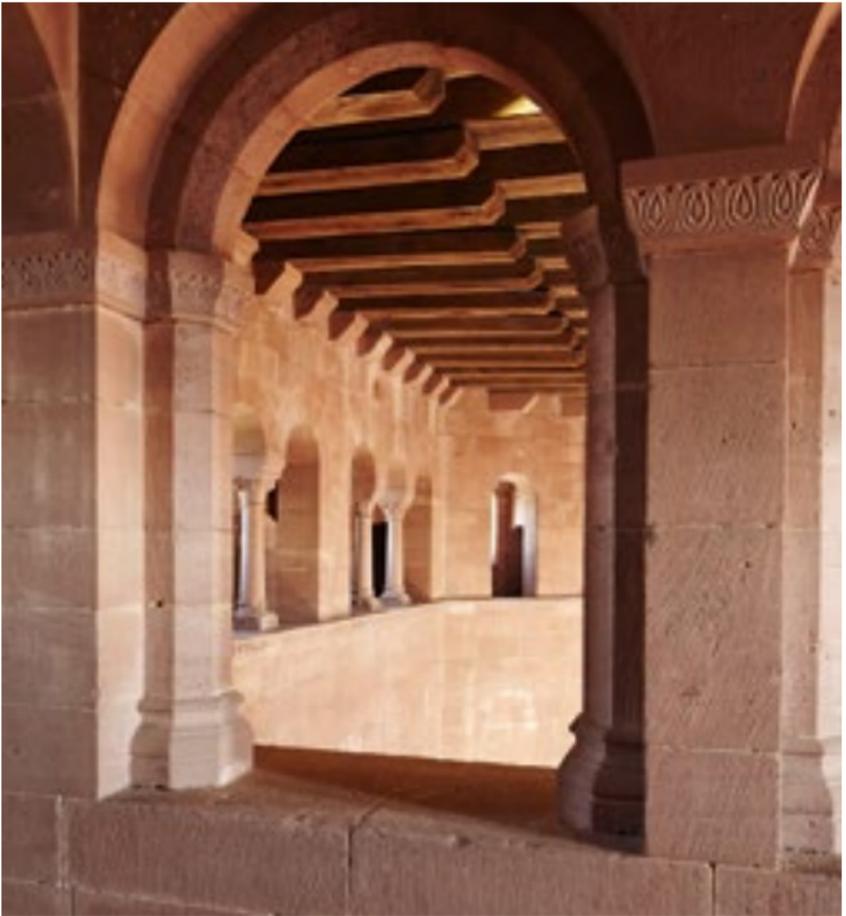

THE MOST POWERFUL CASTLE OF THE STAUFER

High above the Hohenstaufen town of Annweiler, the former imperial castle of Trifels is enthroned on the Sonnenberg. To this day, the castle still presents itself as a sublime and mighty complex. This is where the great period of the Hohenstaufen dynasty in the High Middle Ages comes to live again. The imperial castle was both treasury and state prison. First mentioned in a document in 1081, the imperial regalia of crown, sceptre and orb were kept here. Today, replicas of these pieces are presented in a separate treasury. At the same time, Trifels Castle served the Hohenstaufen dynasty as a state prison for prominent people. The most famous prisoner was Richard I of England, called the Lionheart.

From the plateau of the keep, you have a unique view of the nature park and the Palatinate Forest Biosphere Reserve.

LANDECK CASTLE RUINS

PALATINATE'S HIGHEST KEEP

The sharp-edged keep of the castle that was built in 1200 has been preserved in its original form. From its 25-metre high platform the view extends from the Vorderpfalz, all the way to the Odenwald and the Black Forest.

NANSTEIN CASTLE AND PALACE RUINS

MIGHTY THRONE ON A SANDSTONE CLIFF

Besieged, destroyed, rebuilt, plundered, destroyed ... The history of Nanstein castle is a tale of the struggle for power, of successes and failures, but also of the courage to start again. Built in the 12th century, it turned into one of the Staufer's largest fortifications. The "last knight" Franz von Sickingen, once Lord of Nanstein, died in his castle after a violent siege.

DAHNER CASTLES AND NEU-DAHN

TURBULENT TIMES FOR THE KNIGHTS OF DAHN

The Dahner Castles of Alt-Dahn, Grafendahn and Tanstein might rest on a single sandstone cliff only, but the enormous gate and turrets bear witness of the many battles and family disputes they have undergone. On the Neu-Dahn castle ruins you can climb one of the oldest turrets of the Rhine's defence structures.

VILLA LUDWIGSHÖHE

LARGE GARDENS AS FAR AS THE EYE CAN SEE

An Italian-style villa, intended only for the most beautiful season of the year and in the kingdom's fairest region" – with Villa Ludwigshöhe at Edenkoben Ludwig I realised this wish.

The classicist villa, reminiscent of antique models, impresses with its precious wooden floors, rich ceiling and wall paintings and a unique view over the Palatinate and the Rhine plain.

REOPENING 2025

ALTENBAUMBURG CASTLE RUINS

FROM STRATEGIC SPOT TO QUARRY

Strategically, the situation at the exit of the Alsenz Valley was extremely favourable. However, from the time the Raugrafen line had died out in the 14th century, Altenbaumburg served merely as quarry. The impressive remains of the wall still allow to identify the castle's former structure. Only the Palas was rebuilt.

STATE ARCHAEOLOGY MAINZ

WE STAND ON HISTORY

Rhine Hesse and the “Nahe region” are extremely rich in archaeological repositories. No wonder archaeologists frequently make important cultural-historical finds in the course of their investigations. These cover periods from prehistoric times, all the way into the recent past. Documenting and protecting these unique historical treasures is among the key tasks of State Archaeology.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SHOWCASE SPEYER

TRAVEL BACK IN TIME

Welcome: The tour runs past the model of a Frankish burial mound directly into a time tunnel framed by Roman sarcophagi and architectural elements from the Middle Ages. Alternating exhibitions present current excavation finds and exciting topics, allowing visitors to experience the rich past of the Palatinate. Restorers provide insight into their work in the “transparent workshop”.

STATE MONUMENT PRESERVATION

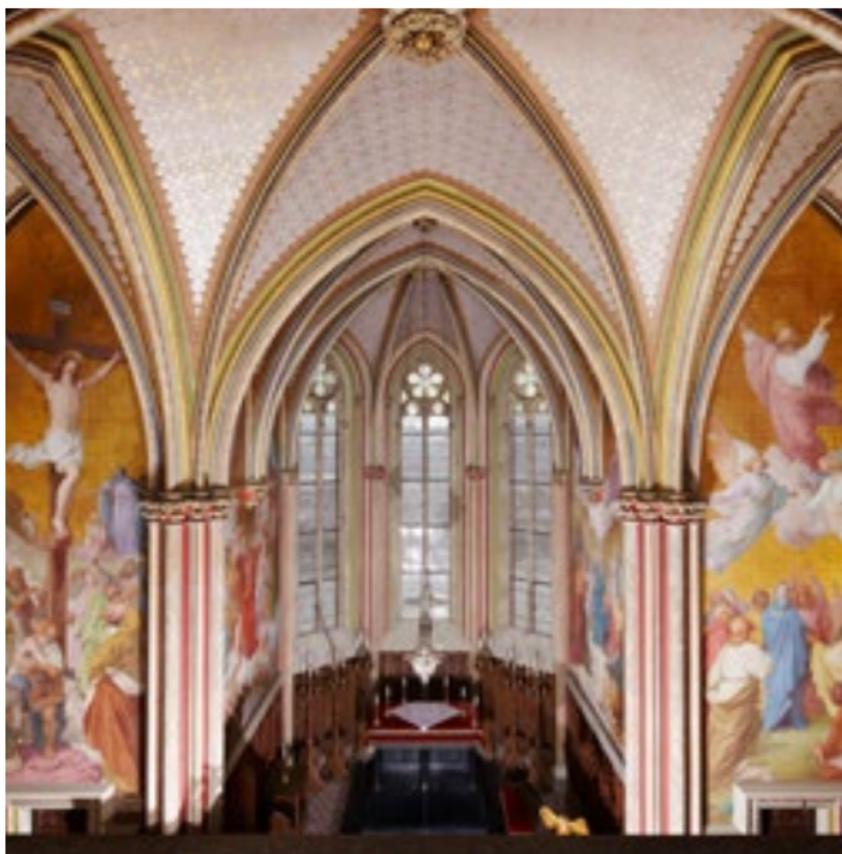

WE PRESERVE, EXPLORE AND PRESENT CULTURAL MONUMENTS

State Monument Preservation covers a broad spectrum of cultural monuments, from abbey churches and castle ruins all the way to timber-frame houses and to workers' housing estates. As the authority for monument protection it is directly involved in many repair and restoration measures in Rhineland-Palatinate and advises owners, architects and craftsmen. With investigations into the construction and restoration history as well as with numerous publications it contributes to the registration, research and presentation of cultural monuments.

OPEN MONUMENTS DAY

Every second Sunday in September historical buildings and places that are otherwise not accessible open their doors and invite you take a tour back in time. Restorers and craftsmen demonstrate work techniques and point out details that normally remain invisible to the untrained eye. Experts outline monuments management tasks by providing concrete examples.

The Open Monument Day is complemented by numerous hands-on activities throughout the country.
